In an effort to find more effective ways of helping her clients in their own healing, a year later she began developing the hypnosis based, trauma therapy protocol that she has since named the Re-Definition of Self Process (RDS Process). This protocol has evolved over time to be a very specific, easily taught, learned, and effective four-step protocol for trauma resolution.

Dr. Wilson has been presenting workshops on this protocol for the past 20 years both nationally, beginning in Alberta in Banff in 1994, and 1996, followed by two Frontiers conferences in Canada; and internationally, at the meetings of ASCH, SCEH, and ISH. As well, she has been an annual presenter for a society in Mexico since 1999, offering conference workshops as well as more extensive weekend training courses. As well, Dr. Wilson has published papers on this subject in the journal Hypnos, the former Journal of the Swedish Society of Clinical Hypnosis, in 1996, 1999, and 2005. The last paper also compared the structure and purpose of her protocol to that of EMDR.

Dr. Wilson is currently working with others towards the advancement and promotion of professional hypnosis in Canada, both as a board member of the CFCH-Alberta Society and as the President of the Canadian Federation of Clinical Hypnosis.

Time: 08:00 a.m. - 8:30 a.m.
Location: Lynx Salon
Mastery and maintenance of affect regulation are often impeded by the individual’s habitual knee-jerk response to frustration, perceived threats, or environmental stressors. The workshop focuses on what affect dysregulation is, how it affects our clients and their relationships, and how it can be controlled through self-regulation tools.

It will teach practical tools designed to facilitate the development of skills to manage anxiety based emotional flooding. With the right tools, therapists can help reactive clients stay calm in stressful situations. With the right tools, clients who stress out can learn to tone down or tune out their stressors. This workshop offers an affect regulation toolbox of techniques that incorporate hypnosis, cognitive behavioral approaches, and mindfulness. Therapists can dip into this all-purpose toolbox for interventions that can help clients manage their emotions, soften their anxiety, and navigate conflicted relationships with spouses, siblings and children.

The workshop also teaches therapists how to transfer therapeutic learning through easy-to-master at-home practice sessions. Training focuses on identifying and interrupting over-reactive responses through cognitive or emotional cues, initiating “time out” periods for self-soothing. The presenter will use lecture, demonstrations, and experiential exercises.

INTERMEDIATE/ADVANCED WORKSHOP

HYPNOSIS-BASED SEX THERAPY FOR SEXUAL DYSFUNCTIONS

Assen Alladin, Ph.D.

Date: Friday May 22, 2015
Time: 9:00 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Location: DEN

This hands-on Workshop will provide a practical approach for understanding and treating sexual dysfunctions. Sexual dysfunctions are a heterogeneous group of disorders that are typically characterized by a clinically significant disturbance in a person’s ability to respond sexually or to experience sexual pleasure. This Workshop will focus on Erectile Disorder (ED) and female sexual interest/arousal disorder (SI/AD). Approximately 20% of men ages 40-80 years complain of occasional problems with erections, while 50% of men 60-70 years have significant problems. The prevalence rate for SI/AD is approximately 40-50%. It appears a large population of men and women are afflicted by sexual dysfunctions. It is therefore essential to find new and effective ways of treating the disorders. This Workshop will:

- Review physiology of the sexual cycle.
- Review etiology of sexual dysfunctions.
- Outline treatments of sexual dysfunctions.
- Discuss treatment options.
- Describe in detail cognitive-behavioral treatments.
- Discuss and demonstrate hypnotherapeutic interventions.
- Positively reframe problem to combat pessimism and skepticism.
- Show how to improve sexual communication and create realistic expectations for sex.
- Discuss Sensate Focus homework exercises intended to interrupt cycle of avoidance and promote satisfying sensual and sexual interactions.
- Discuss self-stimulation homework to attain sexual arousal control and desensitize against anxiety.
